

Which movies were rented out more than 30 times?

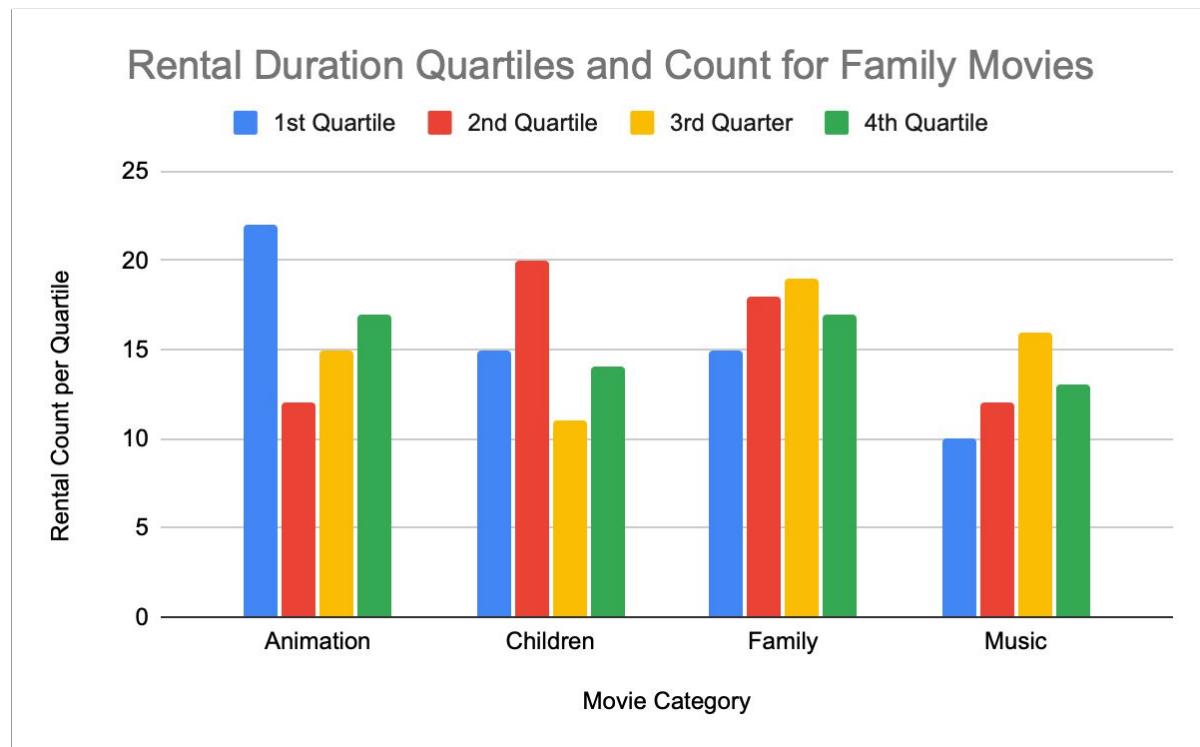

The visualization displays rental counts for each movie title within its film category. Bars represent individual movie titles labeled with their respective category, providing a clear view of rental popularity across diverse film categories

What quartiles do family movies fall into based on rental duration quartiles?

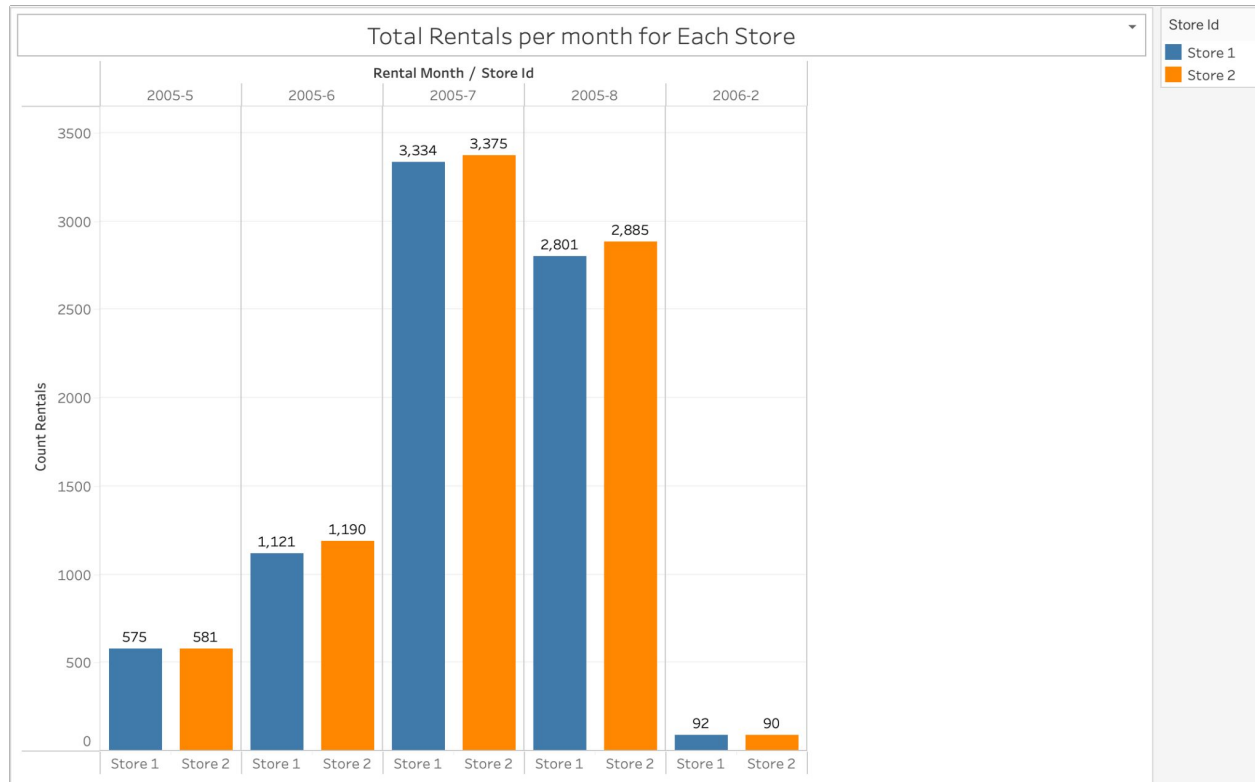

Filtered query showcasing rental durations and quartile categorization for family-centric film categories. Displays movie titles starting with 'C' alongside their respective categories, and quartile assignments based on rental duration distribution within filtered categories.

How is the distribution of movies across quartiles based on rental duration quartiles represented within the family-friendly film categories?

The visualization depicts the count of movies within quartiles (1st, 2nd, 3rd, and 4th) across 'Children,' 'Music,' 'Family,' and 'Animation' film categories. It presents the distribution of movies among quartiles based on rental durations, highlighting the relative quantity of films in each quartile for these specific genres.

How does the count of rentals vary monthly, categorized by store, across different rental months and years?

The visualization displays the count of rentals per month, organized by store, across different months and years. It presents the monthly rental distribution for each store, offering insights into rental trends over time, helping to identify store-specific performance variations.